RE: Nebraska 2017 Legislative Session, Week ending February 24, 2017

WEEK IN REVIEW

Friday was the 35th day of the 90-day 2017 Legislative Session, and only two bills of the 667 introduced have passed. As of mid-February last year, 26 bills had passed and in 2015, nine bills had passed. This will make it difficult for many bills to be considered and passed this year. Only four bills on IIAN's watch list have been advanced for consideration by the full Legislature: two Insurance Department bills (LBs 137 and 406), LB 181 to allow an employee who disputes medical findings in a workers' compensation claim to choose a physician and obtain an additional medical exam, and LB 406, which would allow notice of cancellation of policies by first class mail, in addition to certified or registered mail.

Senators will need to select their priority bills over the next nine working days, as the deadline for priority bill designation is March 9. Each senator may select one priority bill, while committees may select two and the Speaker of Legislature may choose up to 25.

Committee hearings for IIAN's two major issues this session are scheduled for this week:
LB553 (Lowe – Provide for a nonelection of coverage under the Nebraska Workers' Compensation Act) is scheduled for hearing with the Business and Labor Committee on February 27, 2017.

LB643 (Krist – Change automobile liability insurance and financial responsibility requirements) is scheduled for hearing with the Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee on February 28, 2017.

IIAN members will be testifying in support of both bills.
