If you have many positive reviews being added to your Google profile consistently, you'll crush your competition! You can get reviews from your customers with our automated reviews service. LEAD NURTURING

Your abandoned cold lead list might be a goldmine. Chances are, there are interested prospects hidden in your list that you've never been able to get ahold of. What if there was a way to uncover prospects who are ready to talk? Lead nurturing is a series of automated email campaigns designed to help you know which leads are worth your time. Here's how it works:

1 EMAIL COLD LEADS
We'll build a series of marketing emails that give your prospects a chance to request more information. Each email contains an opt-in button that signifies the prospect's interest.

2 GET NOTIFIED
When a prospect clicks the button in an email, you'll be notified. This allows you to reach out to them specifically and start a productive conversation.

3 CONTINUE FOREVER
Lead nurturing is all about timing. Even leads who already told you that they aren't interested could experience a life change that makes them a prime prospect. Continuous emails ensure that you'll be in their inbox when the time is right.

Critical: Responsiveness

I feel like I am pretty well covered, but have no idea who my agent is. I have received e-mails that someone from the agency would be contacting me, but no one has over the past eight years. Hopefully I will be able to talk to someone in person if I ever have a claim.
